The Medical Profession of Upper Canada.

Dr. Jacob B. Chamberlain.

Was a practitioner in Fredericksburg at an early date, before 1792, and there is testimony that he was among the first, if not the first, to practise in the townships around the Bay of Quinte. After the war of 1812, he became a licensed practitioner, as "having practised before and during the war." The following notice appeared:

"Died--October 6, 1841. At Fredericksburg, Doctor Jacob B. Chamberlain, aged 78. Dr. C. was one of the oldest U. E. Loyalists in the Midland District, and was one of the oldest Magistrates.

Dr. Thomas Chamberlain.

Of Bath, not unlikely a son of the preceding. Before the Medical Board, April, 1837. Had tickets from Fairfield College for one course, and for attendance at Pennsylvania Hospital. He passed in Physic and Surgery, practised at Napanee for many years, was Surgeon to the 4th Hastings Regimental Militia; and Coroner. Died, September 14, 1872.

"Charles Chamberlain, son of Dr. Chamberlain, of Fredericksburg, died on his way to San Francisco, April 25, 1862, the result of an accident on board ship."

Vol. 1

Chronicles of Napanee. (1873-4)

In 1871 W. R. Chamberlain was Clerk of the Council.

Old Dr. Chamberlain for many years practised his profession near Napanee, and was succeeded by his son Thomas, who for a long time had a large and lucrative practice, and who only a short time since ceased to work and live.

Vol. 3.

John Chamberlain was in politics around 1845.
